Integration of Tankless Water Heating into Smart Home Routines

Rinnai is the first water heating company to integrate with Samsung SmartThings, which is the latest in a series of innovations developed to support today's connected living. Rinnai has also developed IoT integration with voice control for both recirculation and water temperature with Amazon Alexa and Google Home.

Smart Home Routines for Convenient Control

- Voice Activation for Convenient Control (Over 20 Unique Phrases)
- Adjust water temperature
- Turn on/off Recirculation System on tankless models featuring ThermaCirc360™ or Circ-Logic

Access Rinnai in the Samsung SmartThings app with a couple quick taps.

Connect wirelessly with a wide range of smart devices and make them work together, such as a SmartThings Water Leak Sensor.

Manage connected devices in your home with SmartThings scenes for Good Morning, Goodbye, Good Night, and more.

“Alexa, tell Rinnai I want to take a shower.”

“Ok, Google. Tell Rinnai I want to run a bath.”

Google Home

Control-R™

Smarter technology for the Smartest in Tankless

By adding Rinnai's Control-R™ Wi-Fi Module to a Rinnai Tankless Water Heater, owners can integrate with smart home products to control the unit's water temperature and recirculation.
